

Managing Users

The Claranet Cloud has a system of users with roles and privileges, which ensures your part of the cloud is securely managed by you and your team. We can create additional users in your Enterprise - just raise a service request for this. For private cloud customers with their own dedicated hardware additional delegation of privileges is possible.

All users can modify their own basic details, such as email address and password, by clicking on their user name in the top right hand corner of the screen.

In a future release we will add the ability for Enterprise Administrators to manage their own users.
